This seminar is a foundation for knowledge on agreements related to development of oil and gas, particularly the oil and gas lease. The oil and gas lease is a continuously evolving instrument, which can be tailored to fit the unique needs of the parties. This seminar will examine the basic provisions of an oil and gas lease, detail provisions that are developing as a result of new technology, and describe additional agreements including surface use, joint operating, division order and pooling agreements.

Key topics to be discussed:

- The Oil and Gas Lease
- Related Agreements
